NUMBER 15.

Dr. L. N. Duncan, Director of Agricultural Extension Work in Alabama Spoke to Forty Farm Bureau Officials and Leaders Friday

Declaring that it was a great educational step toward improvement of Country Life when Congress established the Smith-Lever Act of 1914, Dr. L. N. Duncan, Director of Agricultural Extension Work in every county in the United States, Dr. Duncan related to the group of farmers present Friday night at the business meeting of Farm Bureau Leaders and Officials just how the farmers themselves have thru organization made the County Agent and Home Agent of the greatest value to a county. The county farm demonstration agent and the lady home demonstration agent are the advisory leaders of agricultural thought in a county, but the farm bureau thru such leadership as you men gathered here tonight constitutes the machine which crystallizes this new thought into beneficial deeds and acts for the economic, social and educational welfare of every home. To you and upon you gentles, rests a great responsibility of leadership in your respective communities. You must first purge your minds of any distrust or lack of faith in this great movement of co-operative endeavor fostered by your Agricultural Extension Service at Auburn and your Farm Bureau in Montgomery, and when you have yourselves first practiced the great doctrine of co-operation such as selling your cotton thru your own organization, by purchasing your fertilizers co-operatively, by wholesaling and unreservedly giving your active co-operation to your County Agent and home Agent, then and then only have you qualified for this great leadership in your community and county.

I congratulate Coffee County upon the progress she is making in Road building, Education and Agriculture. All honor and credit to your Judge of Probate and his capable board of County Commissioners. They are building real farm to market roads and making splendid use of the gasoline monies. Your educational management seems to be making similar progress and in Agriculture a revolution has taken place since you leaders have been stimulating your neighbors with the spirit of co-operation. And my only wish is that this great momentum of progress in your midst may continue to increase until every one of your splendid body of Coffee County citizens may be actively supporting such a worthy program.

Dr. Duncan, by way of introducing Miss Grace James, new Home Demonstration Agent, who was present at the meeting, but whose time of work begins October 1st, commended her and her record in this work in the highest and urged the leadership of the county to give her the same hearty co-operation as has been given the farm demonstration work. Mention was made of the splendid poultry work accomplished in Dale County a few years ago by Miss James while serving as Home Demonstration Agent in that County.

Dr. Duncan discussed, in brief the various phases of country life development work which the Extension Department at Auburn in co-operation with the Farm Bureau were attempting to put over in every county in Alabama, and concluded his address by thanking the farmers of Coffee County for their invitation to come and be with them in their business meeting where plans were being formulated for a greater service to farming interests of the county.

Other talks were made by Judge Carnley, Dr. Braswell,

Clark-Moore Contest Being Heard in Circuit Court Here This Week

The contest of W. F. Clark against Joe Moore, for the commissioners office in the Northwest District of the county, was called in Circuit Court at Elba Monday morning. Judge W. L. Parks is presiding at the court.

Although there are many witnesses to be heard on both sides, the hearing is being rushed with the hope that it may be finished by the last of this week. This case has been pending for several months, however this is the first time it has been called for hearing.

METHODIST CHURCH

That was a fine service last Sunday in recognizing the little tots as being worthy of promotion. There were numbers of them going from the Beginners' Class, to the Primary Department, and from the Primary Department to the Juniors. These are outstanding milestones in the lives of the children following their faithful teachers, Mrs. W. W. Sanders and Mrs. L. C. Kersh. It was remarkable how much scripture they had memorized including the 23rd Psalm. And then each child was presented with an American edition of the New Testament.

The pastor was called to hold the funeral of Faust Hootan, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hootan, last Saturday afternoon, in the cemetery ten miles North of Elba. The little fellow was taken seriously ill and died enroute to the Masonic hospital at Troy. A beautiful and pathetic incident of the funeral was the scripture read from the dearest child's Bible, presented to him at baptism by Rev. W. E. Faust, for whom he was named; Brother Faust who administered the sacred rites was the presiding elder in the Roanoke District of the North Alabama Conference. The grave is only an inn on the way to the King's Mansion; and though it is a place of gloom, it is only a shadow going from darkness to light. Hosts of friends assisted in the burial ceremony, and extended their sympathies to the bereaved parents, brothers and sisters.

We are glad to have the new Baptist pastor into our midst, and we shall worship with them next Sunday night. This rain is as beautiful after this drought as a bouquet of daffodils. It is truly Showers of Blessings. The last quarterly conference will be held October 24 and 25 at Han's school house.

Judge Carnley Writes on Coffee County Publicity Campaign.

Coffee County has a full program of Farm, Child Welfare, Health and Home Demonstration work for the coming year. In order to encourage and stimulate efforts in behalf of all the people of the county, meetings will be held in community centers during four days next week, beginning on October 6th and ending on October 9th. These meetings will be held on dates and at places as outlined above.

We expect to have among the speakers on this tour of the appointments above, Governor W. W. Brandon, State Supt. John W. Abernethy, Commissioner of Agriculture, J. M. Moore, State Health Officer, Dr. S. W. Welch, State Child Welfare Director, Miss Virginia B. Handley, Chairman Highway Commission, Hon. John A. Rogers, and besides these Dr. H. P. Rankin, County Health Officer, Miss Grace James, County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Mattie Dawkins, Child Welfare Supt. and Supt. of Education, J. E. Hudson, Mrs. Ora Lunsford, Miss Ruth Owen and Mrs. Willie Jacobs, all of Elba. These have the sympathy of numerous friends in their sadness.

Mr. Owen is survived by 7 children, namely: M. A. Owen, J. A. Owen, W. T. Owen, E. L. Owen, Mrs. Ora Lunsford, Miss Ruth Owen and Mrs. Willie Jacobs, all of Elba. These have the sympathy of numerous friends in their sadness.

Elba Hi Wins 7 to 0 Victory Over Ozark In First Grid Contest

E—L—B—A
That's the way we spell it! Here's the way we yell it! Elba! Elba! Elba!

Enthusiasm reigned supreme Friday night in Elba, for Elba Hi had humbled the Ozark Tornado to the tune of 7 to 0. Ozark brought a fast tricky team, one that shows every promise of making itself felt this year, but Elba was too heavy for them.

The outstanding stars for the home team were—well, we just don't know how to pick; they all did well. John Knight covered himself with glory in the third quarter when he rammed Ozark's line for 10 yards and a touch down. James Wise showed skill both in calling the plays as quarterback back and in ramming the line for consistent gains. Levy Cowell, although hampered with a sore leg, pulled off some long end runs, while Leon Roberts, playing his first game, acted like a veteran.

The line was not any too steady in midfield, though it stood like a stone wall when the goal was threatened. Particular mention must be made of the work of James Folsom and Edwin Ellis who broke through the Ozark line on two occasions recovering the fumbles of the Ozark backs in spectacular style.

Elba meets Geneva next Friday and is expecting a hard, though successful battle. The game will be played at Geneva. The game last Friday was witnessed by a large crowd who seemed to be thoroughly satisfied with the outcome of the game.

MR. GEORGE OWEN, WELL KNOWN CITIZEN, DIED LAST WEDNESDAY.

Mr. George W. Owen, one of Elba's well known and highly respected citizens, died at his home here last Wednesday afternoon, September 23rd, after an illness of only a few days. For several months "Uncle George," as he was familiarly known to our people had been quite feeble, but had been seriously ill for only a short time.

Mr. Owen lacked only three days being 76 years of age. He had lived at Elba for many many years, and had scores of friends who were grieved to learn of his death. The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the family home and the body was laid to rest at Evergreen cemetery.

Mr. Owen is survived by 7 children, namely: M. A. Owen, J. A. Owen, W. T. Owen, E. L. Owen, Mrs. Ora Lunsford, Miss Ruth Owen and Mrs. Willie Jacobs, all of Elba. These have the sympathy of numerous friends in their sadness.

Coffee Now Has Home Demonstration Agent; Work Will Begin Today

Miss Grace James, whose home is in Bibb County assumes the work of Home Demonstration Agent for Coffee County on October 1st. Miss James, besides being a graduate of Judson College has taken special training for her chosen field of work and has served several years as Home Demonstration Agent in Dale County where she made a most enviable record, especially along the lines of poultry development work. In fact, Miss James is considered by the Agricultural leaders at Auburn as being an expert in poultry and poultry management. Her training along this line will fill a very urgent need in Coffee County since eggs are so scarce now till some of our folks are tempted to manufacture eggs by the synthetic process.

Miss James, having received her appointment by Miss Helen Johnston, District Agent of Alabama Extension Service at Auburn, will co-ordinate her work with that of the farm demonstration agent, Miss James and Mr. Arnold working for the accomplishment of the same end, that of improving the economic conditions of both home and farm.

We welcome Miss James in our good county and bespeak for her the heartiest co-operation of all our people in the great work she is about to undertake in Coffee County.

NEW EDITOR ON COVINGTON NEWS.

Mr. Mark L. Tucker, for the past two or three years representative of the Western Newspaper Union, has given up his position to become editor of The Covington News at Andalusia, and has already entered upon his new work.

Mr. Tucker is by no means new at the newspaper game, having been "born and bred" in a print shop. This is the first time however that he has been connected with a paper in this section of the state. We are glad to have him in this section, and we feel sure that the News will prosper under his guidance.

SENATOR HEFLIN WRITES TO COTTON FARMERS.

Senator Heflin has issued the following letter to the cotton farmers of Alabama:

There are influences at work in this and the other cotton growing States to overestimate the cotton crop so as to beat down the price and, consequently, or unconsciously, some of the cotton planters in each of these States are lending themselves to this diabolical scheme. To the end that I may have the truth of the cotton situation in each county immediately for the purpose of fighting false cotton propaganda with the literal truth and acquainting the cotton using world with the facts about this crop in time for the cotton producer to get the benefit of the increase in price which is bound to come, I want to know the number of cotton farmers in each county, or as many more as will, to write me at LaFayette, Ala., at once giving me the number of bales of cotton they expect to make this year, how many have already been ginned, and how many remain to be ginned. Also give estimate of amount of cotton cotton will produce.

(Signed) J. Thos. Heflin.

GEORGE RADNEY AND SON STRUCK BY LIGHTNING NEAR FLORALA.

Floralda News says: News was received here late Wednesday afternoon that George Radney and his son, Mack Radney, who live about eight miles East of this place, were struck by lightning about 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. They were in the field loading cotton upon a wagon when the bolt came. Both were seriously burned and shocked, but came through the ordeal with their lives. Another son nearby escaped injury.

October the 3rd is "Work Day" for the Alabama Methodist Orphanage, and the success of the day depends upon Methodists and their friends. Every friend and member of the Methodist Church are urged to give at least the earnings of the day.

You will be gratified to know that we have added four buildings, and other property, aggregating $70,000 during the last three years. We have also added more than one hundred children.

We now have one hundred and seventy-five children and an indebtedness that must be met at once. Without any further statement, you can see how great are the needs of this orphanage.

We are counting on you to make "Work Day" provide for the 175 children, who look to us for their daily bread, for warmth from the chilly blasts of winter, and for education to fit them for the ordinary walks of life.

We know you are with us, and we are counting on you. Remember the day—"Work Day" Saturday, October 3rd, C. W. Northcutt, Supt.

FOUR KILLED AND THIRTY-FIVE INJURED IN A. C. L. WRECK.

Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 28.—Wreckers today were clearing the Atlantic Coast Line tracks at Newark, near here, where two passenger trains yesterday collided head-on, taking a death toll of four and injuring 35 persons.

The trains met on a double curve and neither engineer saw the other until the locomotives were upon each other. The eastbound train was an hour late and had orders to meet the westbound passenger at Newark. The engineer of the eastbound train failed to obey orders and had gone by about a mile when the crash came. The front part of the westbound train was virtually splintered and the steel mail car was pushed almost through the negro passenger coach. The eastbound train had steel coaches and this is believed to have lessened the injuries to the passengers in the rear cars.

Engineer H. A. McGee, of the eastbound train, was fatally injured and A. L. Dege, of Waycross, Ga., baggage master on the eastbound train, was fatally injured. Dan Williams, negro porter, and an unidentified negro on the westbound train, were dead when found.

The rear passenger coach of the westbound train remained on the track as did two passenger and Pullman coaches of the other train. The engines were a mass of twisted metal on both sides of a 10-foot embankment and the baggage and mail cars were destroyed by the impact.

Shave With Safety

Fashion favors contrasting shades

Well dressed men are following Fashion's latest decree—they are wearing separate trousers of a different shade than coat and vest.

Our complete line of Butcher Trousers enables you to follow this sensible style easily and with real economy.

Butcher Trousers are stylish, because they are cut according to the latest designs. They will wear well, too, as they are backed by the famous Warranty of Lee & Butler; $1.00 a Pair.
